Quotes about Accidents

from QuotationsBook.com

A car crash harnesses elements of eroticism, aggression, desire, speed, drama, kinesthetic factors, the stylizing of motion, consumer goods, status -- all these in one event. I myself see the car crash as a tremendous sexual event really: a liberation of human and machine libido (if there is such a thing).

- Ballard, J. G.

Accidents, try to change them -- it's impossible. The accidental reveals man.

- Picasso, Pablo

I don't believe in accidents. There are only encounters in history. There are no accidents.

- Wiesel, Elie
